“ Dear Michael and family: How sad I am to learn of Jack's death and so sorry for your loss. We shared the same homeroom freshman year and I still remember how comfortable he made me feel. He was always fun to be around and I know he's brought more joy to Heaven with him! God bless you all.

“ Jack was so much more than a co-worker. He truly touched my heart and enriched my life with his constant humor and unique wit. He humanized our work lives with the many traditions he carried on, whether his seasonal decor, (esp. Christmas!), "Mrs. Webb", or the calisthenics instructions he left for the squirrels who visited his windowsill begging for pretzels, Jack was inimitable. I miss him, but what he imparted of himself remains, within me, as I am sure he lives on in all of the many many lives he touched.
