She was a true naturalist, a creative thinker and loved a good laugh. She enjoyed back yard bird watching and tending to her plants and landscaping. She had a passion for learning particularly History, Geography and Linguistics. She was an avid reader. She loved the freedom to get out for a ride in her jeep and explore the back roads. She modeled healthy nutrition and was a great cook. Her life was filled with song, she loved music. She persevered through her life challenges with incredible strength and courage. Her Love was unconditional. She will live in our hearts forever. Private Family services have been held. Interment Resurrection Cemetery. If desired, memorials to Grace Hospice, appreciated.
